THE CENTRE COUNTY FAIR

Now in Progress on the Fair Grounds.

A LARGE ATTENDANCE

Fair Weather Brings the People from Far and Near—Fine Racing and Splendid Exhibits.

THE FAIR IS A GREAT SUCCESS

The sixth annual fair of the Centre County Agricultural Exhibiting Company opened on Tuesday and will continue until Friday night. The weather is beautiful and the attendance Wednesday was large with prospects for a record breaking crowd on Thursday. The exhibits this year are larger and better than ever especially in the livestock department and agricultural implements. A reporter for this paper visited the grounds on Tuesday and found that they never looked so beautiful and clean as this year. The rain of Monday put the track in splendid condition and we can look for some fine racing this week. The races for Wednesday were the 2:17 trot and pace, the 2:25 trot and pace and the County Race. Among the entries in the County Race were Lew Wallace, Milesburg; Bruce Lingle, Milesburg; W. J. Woodring, Port Matilda; C. W. Lytle, State College and Henry Lowery, Bellefonte.

The Coleville band is furnishing the music for the Fair. There are concerts from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 5 p. m

As you enter the fair grounds from the east entrance the first thing that catches your eye is the poultry exhibit which is unusually fine and if you admire chickens stop [illegible] you will be pleased. On the left hand side you will see the splendid carriage and buggy exhibit of S. A. McQuistion of Bellefonte. It shows what a fine production we can turn out from a Bellefonte factory.

The agricultural machinery exhibit comes next into view and it is the largest ever seen in Centre county. It is in charge of L. H. Musser who is assisted by O. C. Peters, W. O. Daugherty, Jas. Krebs and several others. There are three car loads of machinery all set up and running with gasoline engines.

Isaac Underwood, of Bellefonte, has an intereeting exhibit of cream separators for which he is agent.

There is a first class restaurant on the grounds in charge of Joseph Ceader of Bellefonte.

In the main building you will find a veritable fairy land. There is a beautiful display of woman's handwork in culinary arts. Marion township won a handsome organ by having the finest township exhibit.

E. J. Teaman has a fine showing of flowers and potted plants; James Schofield exhibits harness and blankets; M. C. Gephart, pianos and organs; Joseph's fine carpets and the State College has their usual fine display.

There will be a balloon secension and other amusements and altogether it is well worth going miles to see.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Joseph Thal and John Garthoff Have Bad Accident.

On Saturday evening about twenty minutes of six o'clock Joseph Thal, the green grocer, was driving up to town from the Fair ground. With him were John Garthoff, substitute letter carrier, and a small boy named Campbell. Just as they attempted to cross the track in the rear of the P. R. R., engine house, the Snow Shoe train was shifting a box car into the Glass Works siding. Thall who was driving did not see nor hear the train until to late. The car struck the wagon smashing it badly. Garthoff and Thall were thrown out and badly bruised up while the boy escaped without serious injury. The horse was thrown down and badly bruised up but not seriously hurt.

Altogether it was a mighty narrow escape for all concerned.

—Two excellent sermons were delivered in the Lutheran church Sunday. In the morning Rev. W. H. Schock of New Berlin, Pa. preached, and the evening Rev. W. H. Bender of the New Chester, Pa. filled the pulpit.

SECRETARY HINDMAN RESIGNS.

Will Leave Bellefonte the First of the Year.

We are sorry to chronicle the fact that Secretary L. B. Hindman, of the Y. M. C. A., has tendered his resignation as Secretary and will leave Bellefonte the first of January 1906. He expects to go in the real estate business. Mr. and Mrs Hindman have made a host of friends during their stay here and the people of Bellefonte will sincerely regret their departure, but at the same time will wish them abundant success wherever they may locate.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A., have adopted the following resolutions in regard to the resignation.

WHEREAS, Mr. L B. Hindman, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Bellefonte, has deemed it advisable because of uncontrollable circumstances to tender his resignation, the same to take effect at the end of the calendar year; and

WHEREAS, he has rendered a faithful, devoted and efficient service to the Y. M. C. A., as far as the facilities at his command would permit, and

WHEREAS, he has responded very cheerfully to every call made upon him for Christian service, no matter from what source the call came; and

WHEREAS, he has at all times conducted himself as a Christian gentleman and citizen during his brief sojourn in Bellefonte.

Therefore, Be it resolved that the Directors of the Y. M. C. A., of Bellefonte fully appreciate his exemplary life and untiring efforts in behalf of the young men, and accept with sincere reluctance and regret the tendered resignation, and

Be it further resolved that the most cordial sympathies and best wishes of the Board of Directors follow Mr. Hindmah and his esteemed wife in all their future labors and relations.

State College News.

Coach W. S. Golden and his assistants are now beginning to realize how hard it is to train a practically new football team, for never before have they been up against the kind of a proposition as they are this season. Only one of last year's team who played regularly on the 'varsity is holding his position this season and that is Dunn, at center, and around him it is necessary to build out of last year's subs and from among the new men a team to do battle with the hard schedule State has before her.

It was bad enough in the beginning of the season to lose such stars as Forkum, Woodward, McIlveen, White, Ray, Saunders and Hohnbart, but now two other stars, Moscrip and Smith, the two big tackles, have decided not to come out; the former because he has secured a good position and will not return to college and the latter because he has been appointed an assistant in the mechanical engineering department and will not have the time to devote to football. And to cap the climax, Head, the big 255-pound guard, has been unable to pass the Freshman examinations and has returned home.

The men who are being tried out now for the heavy positions on the line are Wray, Putnam, Kunkle and Price at guards. The above are also being tried at tackle, in addition to Cyphers, Leonard and Hamilton. The ends are in better shape, with Barr, Brandt, Henry and A. Yeckley to draw on. All are fast men and improving rapidly in concerted team work. For quarter-back the honors are now evenly divided between Moorehead and Henry, and it is probable that both will be kept on the team. Captain E. Yeckley is now fixed at left half with Partridge, Fawkes and Miller fighting for his team mate. Miller is the likeliest man, as he is a punter of more than the usual ability. At full-back the contest has now narrowed down to between McGee, Behee and McWilliams.

Death of Mrs. Linn Adams.

Mrs. Linn M. Adams, widow of T. Frank Adams, at one time county commissioner, died at one of the Fraternity houses at State College Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock after a brief illness of peritonitis.

Her maiden name was Miss Linn Campbell and she was about fifty years of age.

She is survived by one son, Lee F. Adams, a student at State College.

The funeral services will be held this morning at 10:30 from the Methodist church at State College. Interment in the Union cemetery at Bellefonte.

THE ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Centre Baptist Association.

AT BAPTIST CHURCH

In Milesburg This Week—It is The 25th Anniversary of the Woman's Missionary Society and the 75th of the Association.

LARGE ATTENDANCE OF DELEGATES

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Centre Baptist Association began their 25th anniversary Tuesday afternoon in the Milesburg Baptist church. The session was opened at 2 p. m. with the President, Miss S. E. Dysart of Tipton presiding, Mrs. A. C. Lathrop of Milesburg conducted a spiritual devotional services, reading the 96th Psalm. This service was participated in by quite a number, in her closing remarks Mrs. Lathrop warmerly welcomed the guests to church and homes The reports of the recording secretary, Mrs. A. J. Green of Salteils and of the treasurer, Mrs. Edward Bell of Sabbath Rest; was presented. Mrs. Augusta Loomis in an interesting address brought "greetings from the Northumberland Society."

Tuesday morning the Centre Baptist Association convened at 9:45 o'clock. This is the 75 th Anniversary. The Milesburg church where the services are held is the only surviving church of the three organizing the Association 75 years ago. The association has 28 churches with a membership of 3000.

Almost twice as many delegates were in attendance as in former years. We make especial mention of the address of Mrs. S. E. Dysart, of Tipton, Mrs H. A. Jones, of Philadelphia, made an able address on Woman's Foreign Mission work and suggested cause for increasing the interest and extending the good work.

Mrs. Dr. Metzgar, of Tyrone, sang a solo very impressively, entitled, "Doing His Will," the workers conference was the feature of the afternoon service.

The evening session began with a spirited praise service at 7:30 p.m Rev, H. C. Broughton conducted the devotional service.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the choice of Miss S. E. Dysart, president; Mrs. Sara Bair, of Huntingdon, as corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. W. Kemmerling, of Altoona, as recording secretary, the pastors wife as vice president; Mrs. Elwood Bell, of Bellwood, as treasurer and Mrs. Dr. Metzgar as Sunday School Missionary. Miss Mamie Bergemarm, of Pittsburg, gave an interesting address on "The Training School and Home Mission Work." The work among the Foreign Element in Pennsylvania was the subject of an inspiring address by Miss Rosalind Runyan, of West Pittstown. The speaker is a missionary among the Slavs in that section. In addition to the hymns, attractive anthems and songs were given by the Milesburg choir and Mrs. Metzgar. Rev. S F. Fergeus, D. D., dismissed the congregation with prayer and benediction.

The Centre Baptist Association began its 75th anniversary at 9:45 a. m., Wednesday. Rev. D J R. Strayer led in the devotional service. Rev. H. C. Broughton, of Altoona, preached the anniversary sermon from the text 1st John, 3 chapter and 2nd verse. The letters and statistics of the churches were read, these were on the whole encouraging. We present a brief summary: The increase in the membership of the 28 churches, comprising the Association is 295, of these 192 were by baptism. The decrease by death, letter, etc., and the dismission of the Mt. Zion church to another association is 250 members, leaving a net gain of 45. The total membership is 2935. In our Sunday school we have a membership of 2992. The total contributions is $28,368.58. On the whole this is a good showing. But for the change of the Mt. Zion church our net gain would have been 153 members. The general routine of business was attended to.

The election of officers were as follows:

Moderator—J. S. James, D. D. Altoona, Pa.

Clerk—S. F. Forgeus, D. D., Huntingdon.

Treasurer—S. S. Miles, Port Matilda.

THE NEW LIME KILNS.

There Will be Work for 2,000 Men at at these Operations.

Centre county promises to be soon the headquarters in Pennsylvania The work on the Whiterock quarries at Pleasant Gap is progressing finely. The railroad is rapidly nearing completion and work has been commenced on sixteen kilns at this operation. Supt. Finnegan is looking after the construction of the kilns and the opening of the quarries.

Soon the American Lime & Stone Co., will begin work on the construction of a half mile track from Peru, on the Lewisburg and Tyrone Railroad, to a point west of Pleasant Gap, where it will open another large operation

Two other companies are being formed to operate along the base of Nittany Mountain, west of Pleasant Gap, and when all are in operation it will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars of capital invested, work for a couple thousand men and more than 100 cars daily output of lime and ground stone.

Big Odd Fellow's Gathering for Bellefonte.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday October 16th, 17th and 18th, will be big days in Bellefonte and it is none too early for the property owners and citizens of the town to be thinking about preparing for the event and making arrangements for suitable and proper decorations. The occasion will be the annual Communication of the Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania I. O. O F., and the Department Camp Patriarchs Militant. The gathering will consist of not less than three hundred additional visitors and a number of Campe will be here, which will swell the crowd anticipated to over six hundred.

Members of the local order are already hard at work getting things in shape for the big gathering. The local committee of arrangements is composed of M. L. Altenderfer, chairman; H. B. Pontius, W. P. Kuhn, W. S. Scholl and J. Kennedy Johnston. In addition there are committees on finance, decorations, etc. Bellefonte has always been noted for its hospitality and it does not want to be behind in the character of the reception and entertainment meted out to the visiting Odd Fellows.

State Won Easily.

In their second game of the season State College Saturday defeated the California Normal team by the score of 29 to 9. The visitors showed surprising strength and held State without scoring in the first half. In the second, however, State's eleven took a brace and in just one minute and a half from the kick-off McGee hurdled the line for a touchdown, and from that time on the White and Blue had things pretty much their own way, scoring four more touchdowns. All of State's men showed great improvement over their form of two weeks ago, and the coaches feel much encouraged over the outlook for the game with the Indians next Saturday. The line-up:—

State College	position	C. Normal
Barr	l e	McPhale
Wray	l t	McCauley
(McWilliams)		(Frazer)
Leonard	l g	Hayes (Palmer)
Dunn	c	Gray

Summary—Touchdowns, Yeckley 2, Miller, McGee, Partridge. Goals, from touchdowns, Yeckley 2, Miller 2, Referee Dr. J. Robinson. Umpire, Dr. F. Robertson, linesmen, Holley and Mackay. Timekeepers, Bair and Cree. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

Horse Dead on Track.

There was considerable excitement at the Lewisburg fair grounds Thursday afternoon at the close of the third heat in the 2.25 race. The heat had been won by a trotter called "Little Jake" in 2.21¼. After winning the heat the driver drove down to the turn, where the horse staggered through the track fence and fell dead. It was reported that several persons had been seriously injured but this is a mistake. One lad named Walter Baker, was knocked over but he was not badly hurt. An investigation showed that the horse had burst a blood vessel. "Little Jake" was owned by Theo. Burg, of Newton, N. J.

A BIG LINER GO'S ASHORE!

The Almeda Hit Rocks in San Francisco Bay.

IT WAS DUE TO THE FOG

That Accident Took Place--Seventy Passengers on Board But all Taken off Safely

TUGS AND LAUNCHES TO THE RESCUE.

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—The Oceanic Steamship company's steamer Almeda, Captain Dowdell, which sailed Saturday morning for Honolulu, in charge of Pilot C. B. Johnson, with seventy cabin passengers on board, went ashore in a fog at Port Point, on the southern side of the entrance to San Francisco bay All the passengers were landed safely and returned to the city over the street car lines, which extend almost to the scene of the accident.

The point at which the vessel struck is a ledge of rocks that makes off to the northward from the old brick fort, extending about 200 yards. There is a buoy about 400 yards northwest of the ledge, but between the buoy and the ledge there is a depth of about seven fathoms of water.

As soon as the steamer grounded the crew went to their stations, and the boats were promptly launced and filled with passengers, the lowering and manning being executed with great dispatch Many tugs and launches went to the assistance of the vessel, and took off a number of the passengers.

Among those on board were H. P. Wood, late secretary of the San Diego chamber of commerce, who has resigned that place to enter the service of the Honolulu promotion committee; T. W. Hobron, a well-known merchant of Honolulu; Dr. F. Reed, a prominent physician of the Hawaiian capital, and M. O'Shaughnessy, a well-known civil engineer, who started to Honolulu to supervise the construction of the Tawakea ditch, one of the largest irrigation enterprises on the islands.

Every effort is being made to pull the vessel from the rocks and there is a possibility that she may be saved. A force of men were sent out with instructions to discharge her cargo, which is valued at $100,000.

The Alameda is an iron screw steamer of 3,158 tons. She was built in 1883 by Cramp & Sons, Phiindelphia. Her length is 314 feet, breadth 41 feet and depth 17.3 feet.

Diagonally opposite the spot where the Alameda went on the rocks the steamer City of New York was wrecked some twelve years ago, while Pilot Johnson, brother of the pilot on the Alameda, was guiding the vessel. The New York was a total wreck. Heavy fogs interfered with the course of the ship in exactly the same manner as with the Alameda.

ANDREW J. McCLINTICK DEAD.

Was one of Porter Townshp's Best Known Citizens.

Andrew J. McClintick, of Lamar, died at his home Tuesday night at midnight of diseases incident to old age. He lacked a few days of 77 years. He is survived by his wife and two daughters Mary Margaret, the wife of Samuel Bucher, of Oklahoma, and Grace, now Mrs. Harry McCauley, who with her husband, lives at home. Mrs. Bucher was also at home at the time of her father's death. He is also survived by two brothers, Samuel, of Cedar Springs, and A. C., of Rote.

Mr. McClintick was one of the substantial citizens of the township. He was a life long farmer but for the last few years he had retired from the farm and occupied a pretty home in the suburbs of the village of Lamar where he lived in contentment with the world and most comfortably situated until called to the scenes beyond —The hunting season opened poorly here Monday with rain. A number of our local hunters, however ventured out, but none returned heavy laden. One man succeeded in bagging five squirrels. Several others came in with three and four each, while three woodcock was the largest bag brought in.

COUNCIL MEETING.

What the Boro Fathers Did at Their First October Meeting.

The borough council met Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock with President Jenkins in the chair. The following members were present: Fenlon, Seibert, Wise and Keichline.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by clerk W. T. Kelly and there being no corrections they stood approved.

There was no report from the various committees except the finance committee.

Borough Solicitor Fortney submitted an opinion in regard to the laying of a walk along North Smith street down past the old Thomas estate. He could not find any record of a road being laid out along this road but it has been used as a road for many years. He recommended that an ordinance be enacted laying this out as a street. The property owners are willing to give the land so as to widen the street, which would give room enough to lay a walk at the point desired. The council discussed the matter for some time but no action was taken.

Burgess Walker turned in fines collected for July and August amounting to $30.

There was a communication read from the Pennsylvania railroad company offering to pave High street from the new bridge to Meek's corner if the council would pay $150.00 of the expense. The expense to the railroad company will be about $700.00.

Mr. Fenlon made a motion that the proposition of the railroad company to pave High street be accepted and the company notified to that affect. The motion was seconded by Mr. Seibert and carried. This action of the Pennsylvania railroad company is an unusually generous one and was greatly appreciated by the council and will be by the people of Bellefonte generally. When this improvement is completed Bellefonte can well feel proud of that section of the town. High street at this point will be raised to a level with the new bridge and the unsightly sign across the road "Look out for the locomotive" will be removed and two smaller and neater signs will take their place but at different points.

The usual annual appropriations were granted the Logan and Undine fire companies.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

Death of John Rossman.

John Rossman, for many years a resident of Gregg township, died at the home of his son, near Penns Cave, Tuesday Sep. 26, at the age of seventy-eight years. Interment took place Friday morning, at the Union church cemetery, Farmers Mills, Rev. Daniel Gross, of the Reformed church, officiating.

The deceased is survived by four sons namely, Josiah C., Penns Cave; Lewis E., Howard F. and Harvey D., all of Spring Mills.

Mr. Rossman was at one time a progressive and active citizen. His last illness extended over a period of six months, during which time he suffered greatly at intervals.

Death of Gertrude Eaton.

Gertrude Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs John Eaton, living near Blanchard, died at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning Sept. 26th, after an illness of 18 days with typhoid fever, complicated with cerebro spinal meningitus. She suffered greatly from the beginning of her illness and the efforts made to save her life were in vain. Death relieved her suffering. She was a bright, estimable young lady, with a pleasant disposition and a large circle of friends will miss her. She was aged 23 years and, besides her parents, is survived by one brother, Geo. W. and one sister.

WITTE WELCOMED!

Return of Russia's Peace Commissioner to His St. Petersburg Home.

RECEPTION WAS HEARTY

Greeted at the Station by a Large Crowd of Officials and Citizens with Much Enthusiasm.

AN ADDRESS OF WELCOME READ

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—M. Witte arrived here at 8:25, a. m., yesterday and was accorded a very hearty reception by a large crowd of officials and others. In a brief speech replying to a welcoming address, M. Witte showed clearly that he was deeply touched by the welcome with which he was received.

When he left St. Petersburg in July a small delegation of officials accompanied him to the railroad station to bid him farewell. There was no public demonstration whatever. Today there were seven or eight times as many officials, despite the, for Russia, very early hour of the train's arrival, and an enthusiastic crowd of 500 to 600 persons.

The crowd had collected where M. Witte would descend from the train and when he appeared they broke into long and loud cheers, to which M. Witte bowed acknowledgement The spokesman then advanced and read the address of welcome, all standing bareheaded.

The address read:

"You have accomplished your difficult task and the nation is grateful to you. You have given the credit for your success to Emperor Nicholas, President Roosevelt, Emperor William, of Germany and to the press You have forgotten yourself. We, however, fully appreciate your services to your country. The tree you planted at the Washington homestead at Mount Vernon will serve as a token of the union between the two nations. You have done much. For ourselves and for those who are absent, we will once more shout a hearty hurrah."

When the cheer had died away, M. Witte, who seemed deeply moved by the welcome, advanced a few steps and delivered his reply. He said:

"I was so little prepared for this kind reception that I must ask your pardon for the incoherence of my words. I have performed my duty well because I have strictly obeyed his majesty's instructions, because circumstances favored me, because the world is weary of this bloody war, because all classes of American society from President Roosevelt down were in sympathy with my and your cause, because I was true to my country and her and our interests."

M. Witte's last word was followed by further loud and hearty cheering, after which, slowly advancing toward the entrance, he shook hands with the deliverer of the welcoming address and his friends and former colleagues. The crowd followed closely toward the door where an open carriage was in waiting.

M. Witte proceeded at once to his home, where he was joyously received by Madame Witte. He was the recipient of numerous floral offerings, which had been sent to his home.

Chicken Thieves.

Residents up Buffalo Run have suffered considerable loss the past few weeks from the depredations of chicken thieves. Last Thursday evening when Mrs. J. C. Hunter went into her hen house to secure some fowls for a local huckster she discovered two men in hiding behind the house She went for help but the two rascals evidently knew they had been discovered and made good their escape in the darkness before assistance could be secured. When an examination was made it was found that the men had already cut a big hole in the wire fencing, ready to pounce upon the chickens at the first opportunity, A few nights previous to Mrs. Hunter's experience Benner Kephart shot six times at a couple men whom he thought were trying to steal his chickens. Chicken stealing has been perpetrated so extensively up the valley the past few weeks that the farmers are all laying for the depredators and unless the thing is stopped at once somebody will be marked with about an ounce or two of cold lead.

Hicks October Forecasts for 1905.

The first storm period covers the 1st to the 5th inclusive. By the 1st the barometer will be falling in western sections accompanied by change to warmer and growing cloudiness. From the 2nd to 5th these conditions will increase as they move westward across the country, resulting in autumnal rain and storminess over most parts of the country. A touch of early snow, followed by clearing, frosty nights, may be counted on northward, at and immediately following this period.

The second storm period is central on the 7th, 8th and 9th. Falling barometer, rising temperature, growing cloudiness and return of autumnal rains, will result at this period. The western tangent, or the last part and windup of this and other October periods will bring spurts of snow and early touches of winter over northern sections, followed by northerly winds and clear frosty nights in central to southern states.

The third storm periods is central on the 14th, covering the 12th to the 16th. On and touching the 13th, the change to warmer will be marked in western parts, the barometer fall to low readings, and decided storms of rains, turning at the last into sleet and snow, will pass eastwardly over the country during Friday the 13th to Monday the 16th. High gales over the great lakes and along the north Atlantic will attend the rising barometer pushing these storms from the northwest. Heavy frosts with freezing in the north, shading into lighter frosts and freezing far southward, will succeed the storms of this period. Seismic shakes will be natural in many parts of the globe, on and about the 13th.

The fourth storm period is central on the 19th, 20th and 21st. The probability is that disturbances will be moderate at this time. The temperature will rise and the barometer fall, with cloudiness and light, autumnal rain and snow. Change to fair and cooler will pass progressively from west to east, behind the light disturbances of this period.

The fifth storm period reaches from the 24th to the 29th. It is central on the 25, but its culmination will not be reached until about the 28th. By the 26th a radical change to warmer will be in progress, with probable lightning and thunder. Low barometer with continued tendency to rain and storminess will lead up to the 28th, on and about which date general and decided storms, first of autumnal rains, later merging into snow in the north, may be counted on. Some high gales on land, lake and sea will come with the rising barometer behind these storms, all ending in a rather decided cold wave for October. On and near the 28th very high tides and seismic disturbances will be most natural.

Kennedy Players.

It is almost incredible that one year can make so great a difference in a person as the past twelve months have in Miss Nellie Kennedy, of Kennedy Players. This was demonstrated to a large audience at the Academy of Music last evening. The notable development physical and artistic, that has taken place in Miss Kennedy, has raised her into the front rank of popular actresses The part she essayed last evening required versatility and force, and to these she added a deal of natural grace. John J. Kennedy did a comedy part with all his wonted humor, and the rest of the company made a well-balanced cast.—Scranton, Pa. Truth. Brought to Bay in a Wooded Thicket.

Jacob Grande, of Salona, who was indicted for incest, and whose case was called last Tuesday morning at the opening of the court, but on account of some technicality in the law in regard to the jurisdiction of the alderman who issued the warrant for his arrest his case was postponed until the matter could be argued before the court, left with his daughter and two children on the Erie flyer at 3:15 Wednesday morning for Johnsonburg, thus jumping his bond. When the commonwealth's attorney, Henry Hipple, learned on Wednesday that the man had left for parts unknown, he asked for a bench warrant which was granted by the court and Sheriff Shearer and County Detective Jacob H. Keller, left on Erie flyer Thursday morning for Johnsonburg, and securing assistance instituted a search of the town and surrounding country and finally located the people, where they had established a temporary camp in a thicket along the Clarion river. The whole bunch was corraled, arrested and brought back to Lock Haven on the midnight train Thursday night and are now in jail awaiting the disposition of their case

EDITORIAL.

That October thunder storm had a July vigor.

To insure success in November get out every Republican vote.

No better men can be found for Commissioners than Miller and Bailey.

Every true Republican is satisfied with the ticket and will support it to a man.

Now don't delay another day in taking steps for the payment of county tax.

Cyrus T. Hall, the next Recorder of Centre county, has his opponent Johnny Rowe licked to a stand still and the latter knows it to.

Yes it is true that Abe Miller, candidate for Commissioner, was shot through the mouth defending our flag during the civil war.

Henry Kline in a quiet way is circulating through the county and making hosts of friends who will stand him well on election day.

Lincoln Swartz is a farmer and a hard working man. He deserves the office of County Treasurer in preference to Doc White who has got enough without it.

The same old trick is attempted this year that has been played by the Centre Democrat for years back. But the people cannot be fooled all the time. Last year it criticised Judge Love for riding on a railroad pass. This year Judge Orvis is riding on a pass as gracefully as a duck rides on water; which illustrates what Jimmy Cornelly meant a short time ago when he twitted the editor of the Gazette with the remark: "You have the say and WE have the judge."—Keystone Gazette.

HOT SHOT FOR DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.

The following political hot shot is taken from last week's Keystone Gazette.

Like begets like, and as there is nothing like a farmer in the gang that managed the Democratic nominations this year, he need not be surprised that he was pushed aside.

Dentists, bar-tenders, "loafers," 17-year locust office holders, grain-dealers, tailors and nearly every other manner of men have found room on the Democratic county ticket this year except the farmer. And yet they comprise three-fifths of our population and pay three-fourths of the taxes. Too MUCH TAYLOR.

With Dr. White's income of $2400 per year as a dentist, and the revenues he derives from his coal operations as partner of Judge Orvis, he should not be so insistant on being elected county treasurer and give Link Swartz, who digs in the ground for a living, a chance Of course Mr. White is endorsed by both Judge Orvis and Sheriff Taylor and what else do you want?

Things have come to a pretty pass in Centre county when a man and his daughter can no longer go to the city without having a pack of smelling curs trailing after them. Who will want to be a candidate for any office in the future if these things are recognized and encouraged?

Poor Johnny Row will get it in the neck frightfully if we correctly interpret the hand-writing on the wall. "D—n Row. Let him take care of himself. We have our hands full with White and Jackson. Charley Kurtz will take care of the Commissioners."

Harry Jackson has been a hanger-on to the court house for seventeen years. It is sheriff Taylor's wish that he be allowed to live off the public crib for another three years, and so successfully did he lay the plans for Wagner Geise's defeat for the nomination for Register that the young man had no show against the experienced political manipulations of sheriff Taylor, who wants himself and Jackson vindicated for allowing Jere Condo to fall into the hands of murderers by their neglect of him.

The people of Bellefonte are now galling under a 31 mills tax, heaped upon them by a democratic Reform Council which is composed of nearly all non-property holders and who do not care who pays the taxes. The Centre Democrat, which had been loud in its denunciation of this council's work in the past, is now silent as the grave on the subject because Mr. Kurtz is trying to force upon the county a board of non-tax paying commissioners, Do you want the experience of the people of Bellefonte tried on the tax-payers of the county? That is a question for you to answer at the polls.

CARE OF BOOKS.

Marginal notes are usually superfluous and undesirable.

Corners should not be turned down or leaves folded in halves.

Exposing books to heat or strong sunlight warps the binding.

Never bend back the covers of a book, but keep them both level.

Do not turn a book on its face or place any weight on an open book.

Never open a large book from the ends or cover, but from the center.

Bookcases should not be placed against outside walls on account of the probable dampness.

A blunt knife of ivory, wood or metal should be used for cutting new books, not a sharp instrument.

If any liquid be spilt on a book, wipe it off at once gently with a soft cloth or absorb it with blotting paper. Dr not dry it by a fire.

Dragging a book out from the shelf by the binding at the top is hurtful. If books are wedged in too tightly in a case they become shabby.

The Great Man.

It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after your own, but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.—Emerson.

A BIG POLITICAL GAME

Scheme to Make Gordon, Democrat, Governor and Wanamaker Senator.

THAT IS AIM OF LINCOLN PARTY

Berry, Bryanite, Free Silver Candidate For State Treasurer, Gets Body Blows at Two Ends of the State.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.

The so-called Lincoln Party, which was formed to defeat the Republican ticket at next month's election has proved a complete fizzle.

Outside of the few men at the head of the organization, all of whom are disappointed office seekers, and many of them long ago repudiated by the Republican party, there is absolutely no backing to the agitation, aside from the Wanamaker newspaper combination.

Here and there, there will be found little groups of followers of these leaders who make speeches and adopt resolutions for publication in the insurgent newspapers, so as to make it appear that there is a popular sentiment for their cause.

But the people are not being fooled.

The Same Old Game.

The Lincoln Party is virtually a revival of the old insurgent movement which was financed by Wanamaker interests, when Wanamaker was a candidate for United States senator.

The same old faces are seen at their meetings, and the same old anti-Republican speeches are heard at all of their gatherings.

Former Senator Emery, of McKean county, who has been heard frequently on the stump for Democratic candidates for office, is now at the front of the Lincoln Party movement, which is backing Berry, the Free-silver Bryanite, Democrat and Prohibitionist, for State Treasurer against J. Lee Plummer, one of the most loyal and sincere Republicans that this state ever knew and a man whose integrity and honesty of purpose have never been questioned.

With Emery in McKean county, there is Niles in York, who has twice been turned down for superior court justice in Republican conventions and who has probably come to the conclusion that he must wreck the Republican party before he can satisfy his craving for a fat office.

Niles is chairman of the state committee of the Lincoln Party, and associated with him as secretary is George E. Mapes, an editor on the Democratic Philadelphia Record, which is dominated by the Wanamaker interests.

Where the Wires Are Pulled.

The Lincoln party leaders of the state have frequent conferences with E. A. VanValkenburg, the Wanamaker political manager in Philadelphia.

In fact, the whole movement is virtually directed from the Wanamaker headquarters. Realizing the interests which have been promoting this scheme, the great body of voters in Pennsylvania have refused to have anything to do with it.

Many are of the opinion that the whole agitation is leading up to a movement to make former Judge James Gay Gordon, a Democrat, an independent candidate for governor, with the ultimate aim of electing Wanamaker United States senator to succeed Penrose.

The more this idea gets abroad the less popular will be the Lincoln party in the eyes of Republicans of Pennsylvania.

Reports from every county in the state received by Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, chairman of the Republican state committee, indicate that there will be a large Republican vote polled at the coming election and that the Republican candidates will be elected by majorities which will exceed any given to Republican nominees in an "off year" at any time in the history of Pennsylvania.

Berry Gets Two Hard Blows.

The Berry campaigners were given severe blows from unexpected quarters in both Allegheny county and Philadelphia.

They were counting in the west upon the support of the Citizens' Party in Allegheny county. They had all their plans made upon the basis of getting Berry's name upon the Citizens' Party ticket and thus secure for him the large vote which the independent organization will poll for its local candidates.

But the Republicans who are affiliated with the Citizens' Party did not propose to have their organization made a tail to the Wanamaker kite. They said:

"No! We will place the name of J. Lee Plummer, the Republican nominee for state treasurer, at the head of our ticket, along with those of the other Republican state candidates."

And that is just what they did.

Then a howl went up from the Lincolnites. The Wanamakerites throughout the state fairly shrieked with anger. Their Democratic allies were swearing mad.

The whole Berry campaign depended upon a deal with the Citizens' Party to give them the shadow of a chance of figuring in the election returns as a factor in the fight.

So indignant was "Wes" Guffey, a brother of Colonel Guffey, the Democratic state leader, over the throwdown which the Berry men got from the Citizens' Party that he immediately resigned from the Democratic committee and said that he would have nothing further to do with the men responsible for the repudiation of Berry.

Business Men Said No.

The facts are that business men and manufacturers of Allegheny county who stood by the Republican party in past campaigns for sound money and the preservation of the Republican policies in regard to the tariff, would have nothing to do with the free silver and free trade Berry, whom the Lincolnites and the Democrats sought to foist upon the Citizens' Party.

The Republican candidate for state treasurer, Mr. Plummer, is now upon the regular Republican ticket and the Citizens' Party ticket in Allegheny county, and he is assured of a very large majority there.

The Philadelphia situation could not be more gratifying.

The City Party, like the Citizen's Party in the west, decided that they could not afford to have a Bryanite at the head of their ticket. They, too, turned down the Lincolnite-Democratic proposition to name Berry for state treasurer and they decided to put no state ticket in the field. This was done for purely local reasons.

The men back of the City Party are practically the same as those who are financing the Lincoln Party. They want Berry elected state treasurer but they feared that they would lose votes for their Philadelphia local candidates if they put his name on the City Party ticket.

Their game is to have all their radical insurgents vote the Lincoln Party ticket in Philadelphia, which will have the City Party candidates for the Philadelphia local offices in the Lincoln column.

Democrats Are Mad.

The refusal to put Berry's name at the head of the City Party ticket has raised a ruction among the Philadelphia Democrats.

Many of them declare they have been sold out. After the Democratic convention nominated the full City Party ticket for local offices the Democratic leaders were led to expect that the City Party would put Berry on their ticket.

Now the Democrats are organizing in every ward in Philadelphia to oppose the whole City Party movement. They have a Bryan ticket with Berry for state treasurer and the full Republican local ticket for local offices. In that way they will get even with the Lincolnites and City Party men by helping to defeat their Philadelphia local ticket.

SHOULD STAND BY THEIR PARTY

Best Way to Maintain National Republican Supremacy Is to Maintain Supremacy of Party Within the States, United States Senator Philander C. Knox has emphasized the importance of Republican success in Pennsylvania this fall in a strong public interview referring to the political situation in the Keystone State.

Without any authority whatever some of the Lincoln Party adherents have been circulating reports that members of President Roosevelt's cabinet were in sympathy with their independent canvass, but it can be positively stated that the national administration is as eager for a great Republican victory in Pennsylvania this fall, as it is desirous of Republican success throughout the country.

President Roosevelt wants a Republican congress elected next year to insure the carrying out of his policies and he is looking to Pennsylvania to furnish a big Republican delegation to the next congress. Senator Knox has frequent talks with the president and fully understands his views on this subject.

This is what Senator Knox has to say on the political situation and he said it with manifest candor and earnestness.

"I will vote the entire Republican state ticket in November and I believe it will be elected."

"I believe in electing Republicans to the state offices and that the Republican party should then see that they administer the offices faithfully and well.

"I believe the best way to maintain national Republican supremacy is to maintain the supremacy of the party within the state and to make the state's influence proportionate to its greatness, is in my judgment, to have the party meet the just and reasonable demands of the people for wise legislation and honest administration.

"I am satisfied that this is the view of the great majority of Pennsylvanians, and a great majority of Pennsylvanians are Republicans."

ELECTRIC LIGHTING FIGURES

Marvelous Development in Electrical Science.

The Bureau of the Census has just published a report on centr l electric light and power stations for the year ending June 30, 1902, prepared under the supervision of Mr. W. M. Steuart, chief statistician for manufacturers. It is the third of a series of reports on the operation and utilization of electric current. In addition to the text which was prepared by Mr. Thomas Commerford Marten, of New York City, expert special agent, there are elaborate tables and an interesting series of illustrations.

The chapters of text discuss, respectively, the scope and method of the investigation, financial operations output of stations, franchises, and the history and development of electric lighting

The statistics do not include isolated light and power plants installed in manufacturing establishments, hotels, office building, etc., for the purpose of furnishing the light and power primarily for the use of the individual firm or corporation operating such establishment.

Electric lighting dates back only to the beginning of the last century, while the history of central stations proper belongs only to the second half of, more strictly speaking, to the last quarter of the century.

The development of electric lighting was marked by the work of a series of discovers and inventors, by whom the evolution of arc lighting from an expensive laboratory experiment to its present cheap and useful form was accomplished.

The progressive success of arc lighting imparted a great impulse to experimentation with the incandescent lamp Many distinguished inventors devoted their attention to this subject but the incandescent lamp was not commercially a success, until about twenty-five years ago, when Edison's first lamps were produced.

To Mr. Edison the development of the incandescent lamp was associated with the creation of a complete system of electric lighting, a current to be furnished from the central station to a large number of buildings in a manner exactly analagous to that in which the supply of gas is furnished. In 1880 he installed such a sytem in Menlo Park.

The introduction of the Edison "Jumbo" dynamo soon followed

The estimated useful life of 100 Watt 16-candlepower lamp made today is over 10,000 hours, about 20 times as long as it was twenty-five years ago.

In the last quarter of a century a total of over 250,000,000 lamps has been produced, or not less than 10,000,000 a year

Then came the attempt to unify arc and incandescent lighting, the development of the use of the alternating current, the evolution of the latter arc lamp, the change from open to closed lamps, the production of lamp globes, lamp supports, series and multiple methods, appliances, fixtures, fuse and cut outs, methods of wiring modern conveniences, and novel types of lamps including the Nernst incandescent, the mercury vapor, and vacuum tube lighting.

OF VITAL INTEREST TO EVERY CITIZEN.

MR. C. D. TAYLOR,

CLERK BOARD OF HEALTH SAYS PE-RU-NA HAS BECOME THE FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE WORKING PEOPLE IN HIS CITY.

Mr. C. D. Taylor has been Clerk of the City Board of Health, Jacksonville, Fla., for ten years, which position has afforded him amply opportunity for noting the best means of preventing and curing disease.

He expresses his approval of the use of Peruna as the most effective means of solving a problem of such vital interest to the community in the following letter:—

"The health of the poor of a large city is always a question of vital interest, not only to the city officials but to every citizen. It has been a source of much satisfaction to me to find that so large a number of working people in moderate circumstances have accepted Peruna as their family medicine. It has cured a large number of cases especially of catarrh of the head, lungs and stomach and building up the general health it cannot fail but prove a help and blessing to any community where it is generally adopted and used. I have found it an honest, reliable remedy and am pleased to endorse it."—C. D. Taylor.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR.

Prayers Will Ascend Heavenward for the Blessings of the Past Year.

The Jewish New Year will begin at sunset Friday the 29th inst and will be celebrated Saturday following. From the four corners of the earth during this time the prayers of the Jews will ascend to the throne of mercy, thanking the giver of all for the blessings of life, health, peace and prosperity enjoyed during the past year and imploring a continuance of the same blessings during the year to come. The New Year, called "Rosh Hashonon," is celebrated according to the bible on the first day of the tenth month, Tishri, and the Jews are commanded to congregate in a holy convocation. Yom Kippur, the day of atonement, occurs on the tenth day of Tishri and will be celebrated by the Jews on the 9th of October.

As the case of all Jewish holidays Yom Kippur begins with sunset on Sunday evening, October 8, as according to the scriptures the day begins with the evening. Yom Kippur with Jews is the holiest of all holidays; is kept as a Sabbath of the Sabbaths, a day of strict abstinence from all earthly work and pleasures, a day of repentance of public and strict confession, a day of forgiveness and good resolutions for the future. The strict followers of the Bible deny their body all food for 24 hours. A part of the Yom Kippur morning service is the Memorial service, where for departed ones special prayers are said and their names mentioned. The final feature of the Yom Kippur service is the "Neilah" or the concluding prayers which promises to be very solemn this year. Just before the benediction is given we hear again the sound of the trumpet called "Shofar," which finishes the time to return to earthly work.

CONTROLS WEALTH OF THE NATION

Life Insurance Pool Wields Stupendous Power.

EXTRAVAGANT EXPENSE ITEMS

New York, Sept. 25.—How stupendous is the power of the little coterie of men who govern life insurance conditions, and how helpless the real owners of the great life insurance companies are to prevent wasteful and criminal use of their wealth was demonstrated by John W. Ryckman, the owner and editor of the Era Magazine, who for a year has been investigating and exposing the corrupt alliance of the great life insurance companies with the Wall street gamblers, and who has kept on in his work in the teeth of an organized effort to drive him to the wall and silence him.

"In his testimony before the legislative committee," said Mr. Ryckman, "George W. Perkins made a statement so astonishing that even his shrewd inquisitor, Lawyer Hughes, stood for a moment amazed and apparently unable to grasp its gravity. Mr. Perkins said, in an off-hand way, and apparently in defense of the methods of insurance companies, that in 10 years from now, if it should not write another dollar of insurance, the New York Life Insurance company would alone control more than $1,000,000,000. The other two big companies would control another $1,000,000,000.

"Now, think what this means. The Mutual Life Insurance company and the Equitable Society are each approximately in the same position as their great corporate ally, and their accumulations in the next 10 years will amount to as much, if not more; so that these three institutions are bound in an indissoluble alliance.

"Can you conceive a greater danger to the republic than that a sum greater than the whole money supply of all the 80,000,000 population in actual dollars should be controlled and handled without rrecourse by a small coterie of men under a system of organized audacity and cunning, for which it would be difficult to cite a parallel in history?

"The fact that the 'Big Three' life insurance companies disbursed in 1904 the enormous sum of $40,000,000 for management expenses is alone sufficient to convict these companies of recklessness.

"The entire expenses of the whole consular and diplomatic service of the United States amounted last year to less than $2,000,000; the entire interest on the public debt in the United States in 1903 was less than $26,000,000, and the cost of the entire American naval establishment in 1896 was only $27,147,732.

"Nothing can more strongly illustrate the awful extravagance of these misdirected institutions than a comparison of the steady growth of their management expenses with the relatively small increase in the volume of their new business. For instance, in 1904 the total premiums on new business of the Equitable alone were $12,825,527, while the management expenses were $14,846,256; the total premiums on new business of the Mutual were $14,676,652, while the management expenses were $16,656,182; the total premiums on new business of the New York Life were $16,133,823, and the management expenses $19,447,867.

"It is very important, I think, that the legislative committee should bring out clearly all the facts as to how millions of the trust funds of policyholders were used directly by the 'Big Three' combine, in league with certain railroads and rich Wall street gamblers, in forming the ironclad coal trust, which has so robbed the people, among them the very policyholders, who have been unconscious contributors of the funds which has made it possible for the coal barons to exact unjustly $50,000,000 annually from the public."

Preacher Gets "Black Hand" Letter.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 26.—A "black hand" letter, dated and postmarked Brooklyn, N. Y., was received by Rev. Joseph De Monte, pastor of the Italian Catholic church of Dunmore. It commanded him to supply himself with $600 in cash and keep it on his person, ready to be turned over on demand to an agent of the society, who, the letter said, would meet him unexpectedly. Father De Monte turned the letter over to the local police. He believes the letter was sent at the instance of some of the members of the Italian colony at Dunmore, who do not take kindly to his crusade against lawlessness among them.

A Word to Taxpayers.

If the voters have not paid a state or county tax within two years next preceding November 7, 1905, he may be disqualified on a challenge. He cannot pay such a tax to qualify himself after October 6. He should, therefore, call upon the proper tax collector and make payment. Voters who are upwards of 22 years of age much have paid such a tax at least one month before the election. A word to the wise is sufficient.

FIVE KILLED IN REAR-END CRASH

Express Train on Pennsy Collides With Local at Paoli Station.

OVER TWENTY PERSONS HURT

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—A rear-end collision between the east-bound New York limited express from St. Louis and a local passenger train, which was standing at the Paoli station of the Pennsylvania railroad, 19 miles west of this city, resulted in the death of five men and the injuring of more than 20 others. The dead are:

Frank A. Brastow, of Haverford, general agent at Philadelphia of the Safety Car Heating and Lighting company.

George M. Pennypacker, of Philadelphia, foreman of car inspectors.

S. S. Walton, of Altoona, Pa.

Richard Y. Garland, of Narberth, a suburb of this city.

Carl Dunhaur, of Philadelphia, a railroad employe.

Among the injured are the following: Mrs. J. H. Voorhees, Haverford, injured back; Mrs. A. C. Riengier, New York, shock; Miss E. K. Spangler, Merchantville, N. J., back hurt; Mrs. Clinton D. Fisk, New York, leg bruised; O. Mihentz, St. Louis, back injured; J. Travis, Mont Clair, N. J., porter, face bruised; Mrs. Lamotte, Ursona hotel, St. Louis, ear cut and shock; C. O. Denoist, 8-year-old boy, St. Louis, back cut; D. M. Perrine, Philadelphia, arm and two ribs broken; M. F. Elliott, Philadelphia, face cut and arm broken.

All those who met death were in the private car of General Manager Atterbury, which was attached to the rear of the local train. Mr. Atterbury is on his vacation in Maine. He expected to return about October 1, and his car had been overhauled preparatory to sending it to Maine to bring him home. It was sent out for a test run and was attached to a local train from Paoli for this city. In the car at the time of the collision were about a dozen men who had been engaged in overhauling the car. Those who were not killed were injured.

The local train was made up in the Paoli yard on the north side of the railroad and switched across to the east-bound track No. 1, on the south side, and came to a stop at the station. Before the switches could be set the New York limited came along at moderate speed on the No. 2 east-bound track, took the cross-over switch and crashed into the local train. The force of the collision was so great that the engine of the limited ploughed 70 feet into the private car, and the latter was forced half way through the day coach ahead.

Hundreds of railroad men from the yards came quickly to the rescue. Nearly all the injured were at once placed on the forward cars of the local train, which was run to this city as a special. It stopped at Brwn Mawr where half a dozen of the injured were taken to the Bryn Mawr hospital, and the others were brought here and sent to various hospitals. Some of the slightly injured on the limited did not leave the train, which also proceeded as soon as another locomitive could be obtained from the yards.

Four of those who lost their lives were killed almost instantly. The fifth man, Richard Garland, died in the University hospital in this city.

PAY TRAIN WRECKED

Five Men Killed and Eight Injured at Mount Holly Springs, Pa.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 22.—Five men were killed and eight others seriously injured in a collision between a pay train and a combination passenger and milk train on the Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburg branch of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad at Roush's curve at Mount Holly Springs. None of the passengers, among whom were three women, was injured. The dead are:

Ephraim McCleary, engineer of the milk train, of Harrisburg; married, with family.

C. J. Shearer, fireman of the milk train, of Harrisburg; married, with family.

John Hill, fireman of pay train, of Reading, aged 26 years; married.

Edward Lauchs, paymaster's clerk, of Reading.

Thomas Marion, conductor of pay train, of Pottsville.

Hill died on the way to the Harrisburg hospital; the other four were killed outright.

The injured in the Harrisburg hospital are:

John E. Amole, engineer of the pay train, of Reading, 36 years, married; fractured skull and contusions of back.

D. B. Zellers, timekeeper, Lebanon; single; fractured skull.

Alfred Hawn, pay clerk, Philadelphia; 54 years of age; lacerations of shoulder and scalp.

Isaac McHose, paymaster, 43 years, married, Reading, fractured skull and both arms severely crushed.

The injured who were taken to their homes are:

Robert Richwinefi trainman, Mount Holly Springs; fatally injured.

George O. Sarvis, trainmaster, Harrisburg; injured about arms, legs and face; may be necessary to amputate one foot.

The pay train, consisting of a locomotive and one coach, was going west to pay the men along the division and was being piloted by Trainmaster Sarvis. The combination train, composed of a locomotive, combination coach and two passenger coaches, was coming east. The two trains ran together on the curve, which is a sharp one and is flanked by a heavy clump of trees.

A Doubtful Compliment.

"My dear, I have a great compliment for you," said the Boston man to his New York niece, who was paying a month's visit and attending many serious entertainments.

"A compliment?" and the pretty eyebrows were raised incredulously.

"Yes," said her uncle cordially. "Professor Mildew said he noticed you particularly at the reception Monday afternoon, and he thought you had a most intelligent face."

"There, aunty," said the frivolous young person, turning reproachful eyes on her relative. "I told you I looked like a perfect frump in that brown dress, but you said I didn't. You see what he thought, don't you? He couldn't think of another thing to say."—Youth's Companion.

When Woman Shops.

There is a curious twist in woman's nature that forbids her to go shopping at the sales alone. She wants a length of lace, a cheap skirt, a blouse. She has the money in her pocket for the purchase. But she must have companionship. She arranges to meet other women who have either no money or no needs, and the companionship, having lunched together, go joyfully to the purchase—a curious illustration of the altruism of woman.

One may perhaps indicate the contrast—which may be to the feminine advantage. A woman wants a new hat. She issues invitations to intimate friends to come and see her buy one. A man wants a new hat. The selfish beast never dreams of inviting his male friends to spend an afternoon in seeing him suited and fitted. Probably there is no man living who, being in want of a new evening suit, gave a friend the delight of helping him in the choosing of the cloth, the measuring and the final fitting. And yet there are those who think women have not so good a time as men!—London Chronicle.

TREACHEROUS PEAT BOGS.

A Grewsome Tradition About the Battle of Solway.

There is an ancient and grewsome tradition connected with the story of the battle of Solway. This battle was fought on the "debatable" borderland between England and Scotland in the year 1542. A troop of horsemen heavily mounted and heavily armored was put to rout. In the panic of their flight they ran headlong into a peat bog. The bog trembled beneath the feet of their chargers and opened and swallowed them, horses and horsemen, arms and armor. To support this tradition more than 200 years later, at the end of the eighteenth century, a digger of peat came upon one of the troop—a man and his horse, both in complete armor and preserved from total decay by the antiseptic qualities of the peat. Another story of that peat bog of the Solway frith is that in November, 1771, the bog, surcharged with the moisture of heavy rains, rose, swelled and burst like a torrent, sweeping along with it trees and houses and destroying thirty small villages.

Many thousands of acres of peat are found in the north German lowland. In Ireland estimates place the lowland bog area at 1,576,000 acres and the highland area at 1,254,000 acres. Russia is said to have 6,700 square miles of peat. Several million acres are in Norway and Sweden, France and Holland. The United States and Canada also have extensive tracts. Peat has been used by artisans for ages in the manufacture of tools. By burning peat the old steel workers produced the finest grades of iron and steel on account of the intensity of the heat produced and the absence of anything detrimental to the metal. The elastic and keen Damascus swords are believed to have been made by the use of peat.

Peat itself is the product which results from the partial decay of vegetable material—mosses and other marsh plants—which grows and dies in boggy places where the water stands. It is chiefly composed of sphagnum, or bog moss. This moss has peculiarly absorptive properties owing to the cuplike arrangement of its parts, which take up and hold water like a sponge. Sphagnum continues to grow after its roots have become detached from the ground. These two qualities explain why bogs occasionally slide from their old beds.

Burial Armor and Shrouds.

The custom of sewing up a corpse in flannel originated doubtless in the act of parliament, 18 and 19 Charles II., which was passed for the encouragement of the woolen trade and required all bodies to be buried in woolen shrouds. Two amending statutes were passed—1678 and 1680—requiring at the funeral an affidavit to be delivered to the priest stating that the requirements of the law had been carried out; otherwise penalties were incurred. These acts were repealed by 54 George III., although long before that time the penalties for noncompliance with the law had ceased to be enforced. During the operation of the acts for burying in woolen the law was sometimes evaded by covering the corpse with hay or flowers, notification of which is sometimes met with in the parish registers.

Burial in armor was not at all uncommon in the middle ages and was considered a most honorable form of burial. Sir Walter Scott in "The Lay of the Last Minstrel" thus refers to it:

Seemed all on fire that chapel proud,
Where Roslin's chiefs uncoffined lie,
Each baron for a sable shroud
Sheathed in his iron panoply.

BIG VICTORY FOR PRESIDENT PALMA

The Result of Cuban Elections Means His Re-election.

ORDER CONTINUES TO PREVAIL

Havana, Sept. 26.—Complete returns from the entire island, which have been delayed owing to the bad condition of the telegraph service, show that in the election Saturday last for members of the election boards, the supporters of the government were victorious in every province, not having lost one important place. The victory was so complete that it is now generally admitted to mean the re-election in December of President Palma and the election of Vice Presidential Candidate Mendez Capote, the leader of the Moderate party.

Colonel Ferrara, secretary to Governor Gomez, the Liberal candidate for the presidency, was arrested, charged with seditious and revolutionary utterances. This makes the sixth charge now pending against him, the others including participation in the burning of the city hall at Vueltas. Colonel Ferrara is an Italian, but he is a veteran of the last Cuban war and one of the most prominent lawyers in Havana.

The mail brought to the Liberals the first report from their adherents in Cienfuegos of the riots there Friday last, which resulted in the killing of Congressman Enrique Villuendas and Chief of Police Iliance. This report differs very little from former accounts, except that it lays on the Moderates the blame for starting the disturbances.

Additional reports from Cienfuegos received by the government say that the chief leaders in the alleged dynamite plot were two Italian anarchists named Humberto Bruni Bove and Julio Grau, who have been making seditious speeches there and elsewhere for some time.

Order continues to prevail through the island.

AT WORK ON HIS MESSAGE

President Roosevelt Will Return to Washington Next Saturday.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 25.—President Roosevelt will complete his summer sojourn at Sagamore Hill and return to Washington next Saturday. The president, Mrs. Roosevelt and members of their family, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb and the members of the executive force will leave here about 11 o'clock Saturday morning on a special train.

The president is devoting considerable time each day now to work on his annual message to congress. For some time he has been assembling data for the message, but since the adjournment of the peace conference he has been writing the data into definite form. The message will not be completed until some time early in November, because each member of the cabinet will have to supply material for discussion of the work of his department.

Maid and Men Dead.

Travelers in China often derive amusement from the peculiarities of shop signs there, many of which are couched in the most eloquent and poetical terms. But it is not necessary to leave the British islands in order to find business announcements quite as curious in their way as those in other lands.

In the Isle of Man, over the shop of a barber who supplies customers with all kinds of fishing tackle, the writer was amused to read the following: "Piscatorial Repository, Tonsorial Artist, Physiognomical Hairdresser, Cranium Manipulator and Capillary Abridger, Shaving and Hair Cutting With Ambidextrous Facility, Shampooing on Physiological Principles." On a signboard in the town where the writer lives may be read this phonetic announcement: "Shews Maid and Men dead Hear." And when we add that it is over a cobbler's shop the reader may discover its meaning.—Chambers' Journal.

An Impromptu Vacation.

Percival Somers in his "Diary of a Country Gentleman" tells of an English farmer's wife who on her way home from market drew £60 from the bank and completely disappeared on the instant. She was thought to have been murdered for the money on the lonely roads, and for six months no more was heard of old Nancy. Then she suddenly walked into her old home and went about her work as usual. She had taken it into her head that after forty years of hard work she wanted a holiday, and accordingly this ancient rustic, who had never been more than a few miles from home, steered herself triumphantly to the United States and took the said holiday among relatives whom she had never seen up to the moment of this belated appearance.

Will Vote Straight Ticket.

"Republicans outside of Philadelphia will not be disturbed in their party fidelity by what may occur in that city," says Editor Frank J. Over, of the Hollidaysburg Register. "They will vote the straight ticket as heretofore, and sustain by the usual majorities the policies so necessary to the welfare and prosperity of the country and record a united and emphatic approval of the excellent, capable and patriotic administration of President Roosevelt."

AN UGLY PINE FLOOR.

The Way It Was Made Almost Equal to Hard Polished Wood.

"I moved into a cottage that had unsightly wide board, wide cracked floors of pine. They were badly stained and altogether hopeless looking when one realized that rugs were to be laid on them," says a writer in an exchange. "As there was no possibility of making them look worse, I decided to experiment. I scrubbed them clean, then carefully puttied up all the cracks with the aid of a putty knife. After the putty was dry I applied oak colored floor paint of a good, reliable brand. The first coat was thinly applied and well brushed in. This paint dried in twelve hours. Then the surface was lightly sandpapered, and a slightly heavier coat of paint was applied. After this was thoroughly hard it was sandpapered again and a thin, well-brushed in coat of lacquered varnish put on. This takes longer to dry than paint and must be perfectly dry before being sandpapered in readiness for the second coat. By this time my stained and despised floors were a rich oak color, with a very fine hard polished surface. This work I did in the spring. In the fall I gave the floors a thin coat of linseed oil and turpentine (two parts oil to one turpentine), well rubbed in with a flannel, with the result that the floors took on their pristine freshness. Unless they have very hard use, painting and varnishing once a year is sufficient to keep them nice. To clean floors treated in this way it is only necessary to wipe them up once a month with a slightly oiled cloth drawn over a broom. I have seen doors painted black in the same manner and varnished with black floor polish that looked uncommonly well as a background for oriental or bright colored rugs. While I do not claim that floors treated as described herein are equal in effect to the beauty of well waxed hardwood floors, I do say that they are very well appearing and, with rugs on them, greatly to be preferred to the insanitary carpet."

A Word to Taxpayers.

If the voters have not paid a state or county tax within two years next preceding November 7, 1905, he may be disqualified on a challenge. He cannot pay such a tax to qualify himself after October 6. He should, therefore, call upon the proper tax collector and make payment. Voters who are upwards of 22 years of age much have paid such a tax at least one month before the election. A word to the wise is sufficient.

HE TOOK HIS OWN LIFE!

Wm Travis Millionaire and Man of Leisure.

NO CAUSE ASSIGNED

The Deed Was Committed in the Apartments of the Deceased and a Revolver Was Used

SHOT HIMSELF THROUGH THE HEAD

New York, September 30.—William Travere, a millionaire, man of leisure, son of the celebrated wit and Wall street operator, William R. Travers, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head in his apartments in Madison avenue. The suicide is inexplicable, Mr. Travers being in the prime of life, in fair health and the possessor of a large fortune. Mr. Travers married Miss Lilly Harriman, a sister of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, jr. The couple separated two years ago, Mrs. Travers going to Paris to live. Mr. Travers was an uncle of Mrs. Clarence Mackay. He had two sisters, Mrs. James Wadsworth, of Genesee, N. Y., and Mrs. Walter Gay, now living in Paris. Since his separation from his wife he had lived entirely alone, with the care of his valet, Martin Moon.

When Mr. Travers rose Friday morning he appeared to be in excellent spirits and after breakfast told his valet that he would not require his services during the day. Shortly after noon a maid found Mr. Travers lying dead, with a revolver by his side. He had placed the muzzle of the weapon in his mouth, sending a bullet through his brain. He left several letters, all relating to business affairs and giving no clue to the cause of the suicide. Mr. Travers never engaged in any business except when, about six months ago, as an experiment, he became a partner in the banking house of Hugh Eddy, the affairs of which, however, engaged little of his time. Mr. Travers, who was 49 years of age, was a member of the Knickerbocker, the New York Athletic, the Tennis and Racquet and many other clubs.

Know Both sides of the Story.

Now that the school term has opened for the current year, be very sure, when one of your youngsters comes home complaining, that you know both sides of the case. Your good boy (pretending Percie) or good girl at home, may be just the reverse away from home. When she or he happened to be "boss." at home it is quite likely that the same tactics will not work in school and there is apt to be a friction.

Remember that teachers are human and they make mistakes, as well as others. Above all if the teacher is doing his best, though it may not be up to the standard, have sense enough to let him alone, particularly if you must admit that you know nothing of the business yourself and haven't been inside of a school building for twenty years. Give the teacher half a chance and if he is worthy of the name he will work out his own salvation, and the community will be better for the support you give him.

Bitten by a Dog.

Monday afternoon Nelson Wolford, who lives on a farm between Unionville and Julian, found a strange dog lying in his barn and when he made an effort to chase him away the savage brute sprang at him and succeeded in biting both hands. For a few moments it looked as though Mr. Wolford was going to be torn to pieces, but with a club he finally succeeded in driving the dog off. He ran down through Unionville and when about a half a mile on this side of the town the mad canine sprang at Arthur Hanscom, who was walking along the road, tearing his coat and pantaloons in several places but failing to bite him. The dog then continued in the middle of the road to Snow Shoe Intersection where he was lost track of. There is no question but that the dog was mad and Mr. Wolford has taken the proper precaution to prevent any serious consequences that might result from such wounds.

Be Wise.

If you contemplate going to the fair next week dress yourself warm enough so that you will be comfortable. It is so late in the season that you cannot expect anything else than cool weather.

While the bright sunshine that is hoped for may look warm enough you will find it quite cool if you sit down to rest and when it will cost you nothing to carry a cost or wrap with you is should not be forgotten. A very little bit of exposure somestimes brings on pneumonia, therefore it behooves all to take the proper precaution against it.

BOYS TAKE WARNING.

Do Not Throw Stones or Other Missles at Automobiles.

On Friday afternoon two boys named Jackson and Hunter were arrested and given a hearing before Burgess Walker charged with throwing stones at passing automobiles They acknowledged their guilt and were severely reprimanded by the Burgess. Sentence was suspended and the boys were allowed to go free on good behavior.

For some time past there has been continued complaints to the Burgess from owners of automobiles Boys have a practice of throwing stones, turnips, etc., at passing auto's and several people have been severely injured. Robert F Hunter while speeding along in his auto was struck by a stone thrown by some mischievous boy and quite seriously hurt. At another time a College Professor was coming in Pine street when he was struck in the face with a rotten turnip and came near losing control of his machine.

There is an ordinance which prohibits anything of this kind and it certainly is a mean cowardly practice on the part of the boys. The Burgess is determined to break it up and has instructed his police to be on the lookout and arrest all perpetrators of such acts and they will be prosecuted to full extent of the law.

The Salvation Army.

Have you ever heard of a poor, troubled, sorrowful, perplexed hopeless man or woman appealing fruitlessly to the Salvation Army? Do you know that something like 3 000,000 just such people are upheld by this wonderful organization. Do you know that in twenty-three different Homes fallen women are each year restored by the scores to honor and a life of useful purity? Do you know that in three different havens little children, all the way from nursling babes to sturdy boys and girls are being succored? Do you know that scattered over the country are seventy-eight Shelters in which nightly some 9,000 homeless, often hopeless, men or women are cared for? Do you know that these institutions represent but a mere fraction of the charitable work successfully carried on by The Salvation Army in the United States?

How is this enormous expense to be met? Fools and ignorant know all will perhaps explain to you that The Army is in and of itself a sort of bonanza class corporation, and of a truth it would needs be if out of its own resources it carried on the stupendous undertakings it dares. But the intelligent man or woman of today knows too well The Salvation Army under too many conditions, and through too many seasons to listen to such folly.

The Army just now is making a special effort to raise funds, and they are asking for not only cash but articles that can be converted into cash.

We append a full list of articles asked for:

Fruit, flowers, canned goods, vegetables, fish, meat, chickens, live stock, corn, cocoa, books, pictures, jewelry, shoes, coal, wood, tools, breakfast foods furniture (new or old), clothing, new or second-hand, wheat, oatmeal, condensed milk, bread, crackers, cheese, flour, lumber, shingles, chairs, stationery, blankets, cutlery, dry goods, musical instruments.

Sunday night will be a special harvest service for the benefit of this work. At which Mr. James Shook will speak all are invited.

L. HERSHBERGER, Capt.

The burnished plumage of the peacock owes its brilliancy and splendor to a healthful condition. Let the bird be sickly, and the plumage droops and grows dull. There is no exception in nature to the rule that beauty depends on health.

Women who see their beauty waning rarely associate the external change with failure of the womanly health. They do not understand the close relation of the general physical health to the health of the delicate womanly organism, until after being cured of womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they find the color returning to the cheek and the flesh to the body.

"Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Several years ago I was very poorly," writes Mrs. May Kelley, of Sylvia, Kans., "so weak I could hardly walk across the floor, and at times suffered severely. I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and got well and hardy—gained twelve pounds in two months and was the picture of health. Your medicines have cured me. Almost everybody I meet says, 'You look so much better than you have for several years; you look well now.'"

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a lady's laxative. Nothing equals them for gentleness and thoroughness.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science is able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

MALE HELP WANTED.—Every boy to ask his confectioner for CHICLETS.

No Unpleasant Effects.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for billousness or constipation you know what pill pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. Justice of the Peace Adam Shook, New Lisbon, Ind., says: "Some three years ago I had a spell of grip and felt outdone and I happened to get a trial box of DeWitt's Little Early Risers and they gave me strength and muscle." They do not gripe or make you feel sick. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Numerous and Worthless.

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Doctors Could Not Help Her.

"I had kidney trouble for years," writes Mrs. Raymond Conner of Shelton, Wash., "and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say too much for Foley's Kidney Cure." C. M. Parrish.

The Latest Fad.

"Bet you the cigars you can't tell where that sound comes from."

Tinkle, tinklety-tink, tink, tinkle. That was the sound.

The new Atlantic City arrival glanced through the French windows from the hotel veranda, and saw a beautiful young specimen of the summer girl passing through a parlor.

"Oh, yes, I can," he said, flicking the ash from a cigar. "The sound comes from that girl in there.',

"You are right. But what do you suppose makes it?"

"I don't suppose at all; I know. Come here, Bess."

This last to the young woman herself who had stepped upon the veranda, accompanied by her tinkle.

"Bess," continued the new arrival, "this gentleman is anxious to know where your tinkletytink comes from. Shall I tell him?"

"Tom Rowley, don't you dare."

She ran inside.

"You see I'm her brother, and I know," said Tom. "As you are a bachelor, you must remain in ignorance."

But the envious one hunted up a married friend, to whom the mystery had been explained by his wife, and leaned that Miss Bessie Rowley of Newport was wearing the little golden belle on her garter. So—

"She makes music wherever she goes."

Just as the old lady on the white horse at Banbury cross did, to the infinite amazement of the little girl, only the old lady wore her bells on her toes, not on her—well, not where Miss Rowley wears hers.

All the girls here say that they are going to adopt Miss Rowley's fad.

In the New York Family Story Paper Charlotte May Kingsley's great romance An American Girl; or Hearts and Coronets. The subject deals with the one brought into prominence only lately by Andrew Carnegie's remark that he would not care to have a worthless British Duke marry into his family. Mrs. Kingsley depicts the American Girl true to life with all of a real American girl's abhorrence of being bartered for a title. This splendid serial begins in No. 1654 of The New York Family Story Paper. Vin-te-na has cured so many people in so many parts of the country that it is really unjust to predict a failure in any case that has gone beyond the power of medicine.

Vin-te-na purifies the blood and makes the nerves strong and steady. It not only cures disease but safeguards the system against every form of germ disease. Most all diseases are rooted in the blood. Vin-te-na cures the very cause of all blood disorders by destroying the impurities in the blood and giving it purity and warmth. Get it and be strong.

Free Training of Nurses.

By the terms of a fund to be administered in connection with the Philadelphia School for Nurses, Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia, a number of young women from every county will receive free training in Nursing. It is planned to ultimately reach and help in this way every village and township.

The young women will be provided with room, board, nurse uniforms and all the refinements of a well-appointed Christian home. At graduation the diploma of the School and the Order of the Red Cross will be conferred, qualifying for practice in any State or country; the railroad fare will then be paid back home.

Those applying and chosen to receive the benefits of this fund will be given two years' training, with a rich experience in nursing the sick poor of the city under skilled leaders. The term may be shortened to eighteen months by taking a preliminary course of six months' reading and study at home. A special short course enables young women to quickly qualify themselves for self support and a substantial income.

In addition to regular nursing, the young woman are taught how to preserve their own health; how to recognize, avoid and destroy contagion; how to establish and maintain perfect sanitary conditions about the home; they are prepared for positions as office nurse and physician's assistant; they get a practical knowledge of City Mission movements, Deaconess training, College settlement work, and are trained for special positions of trust in institutions.

The School is ten years old and is endorsed by physicians, leading educators and prominent men throughout the country.

THE KENNEDY PLAYERS

Opened a Week's Engagement at Garman's Monday Night.

Garman's Opera House was crowded to the doors Monday evening, in spite of the inclemency of the weather, to witness the opening performance of the week. Every one went away highly pleased with their evenings entertainment.

The play was the Octoroon and was put on in a very capable manner the company carrying their own special scenery for this production.

Mr. Kennedy proved himself to be one of the best all around actors that ever appeared here at any price and his magnificent voice could be heard clearly all over the crowded house. J. F. Bannister as Wake-No-Tie, the Indian, is deserving of mention.

Miss Nellie Kennedy, daughter of Mr. Kennedy, portrayed the difficult role of the Octoroon in a manner that would give credit to some of our popular stars, in fact Mr. Kennedy has surrounded himself with one of the best companies that ever appeared here at popular prices, and should do a banner business.

Pleasing specialties were introduced between the acts: Baby Rossie Machan in songs and dances; illustrated songs by Winifred Greenwood and George Hayes, and lastly Ben Lewis in a monologue that brought down the house.

Foot Ball Saturday.

The Academy boys are taking their defeat of Saturday very philosophically. Having a team made up of ten new men and one old one, it was impossible to place the men in their proper places to secure the team work required. They feel their defeat will do them good and get them into shape for the next contest.

The Academy has the material for an excellent team and you may expect them to put up a fine article of football before many days will have passed by.

As a result of the game on Saturday, the men will be shifted generally for the future

In this connection it may be of interest to note that the first teams of the Academy and High School have met four times in their history. The first game resulted 37-0, the second 8-6 the third 12-0, all in favor of the Academy, while Saturday game resulted in a score of 2-0 in favor of the High School. At different times during the past years, the second and third teams from these schools contested for honors with varying success. While in foot ball the Academy held the supremacy, the High School, generally won the honors in base ball during the years that contests were held between these institutions.

Salerno now Has Another New Story

James Salerno, awaiting execution for the murder of Elizabeth Carney, has added a third account of the tragedy to the two he has already told but, unfortunately for Salerno, the story he first told, in which he made a complete confession to two men, fits with the evidence of the Commonwealth like a glove and his fairy tales, concocted solely for the purpose of saving his neck will not hold water.

Salerno's new story is that the murder was committed by Juan Mineri, of Snow Shoe, a member of the "Black Hand," who told him (Salerno) that he was going to kill the girl and her mother and advised him to keep away that night or he would be suspected of the murder.

Knowing the necessity for accounting for the pair of shoes which the murderer left behind, he, in his story, provides "Mineri" with a pair of new shoes in a box when he last saw him, a few hours before the murder, and at which time "Mineri" told him the murder was to be done that night. He says he was kept quiet by threats of death to himself and son.

Salerno will have to concoct something better than either of his last two stories.

About the Stars.

There is a curious myth about the stars which tells that the sun and moon are both women. The stars are the children of the moon and the sun at one time had as many. Fearing that mankind could not bear so much light each agreed to eat up her offspring. The moon hid hers away, but the sun kept her word. After a length of time the moon brought hers from her hiding place When the sun saw them she was filled with rage and chased the moon to kill her. This chase has lasted ever since. Sometimes the sun comes near enough to bite the moon, and man calls this encounter an eclipse. All day long the moon hides her children, only to bring them out when the sun is far away.

The Dolls Bazaar.

The new dolls of the season have arrived in the stores, they are waiting purchasers to buy and dress them, and send to the Dolls' Bazaar, for the benefit of Petrikin Hall. The High School—Academy Foot ball Game.

EDITOR DAILY NEWS, Bellefonte Oct 4.

On Saturday the Bellefonte High School defeated the Academy in a fair game of football, playing all around them although the Academy was much heavier. The excuse is now offered that they had to play with ten new men only one old player having returned. The High School played with eleven new men, not having a football team at all last year, and did not have near the amount of practice the Academy had being unable to get the boys out as most of them have to work after school. Even thus handicapped the High School defeated the Academy by harder and superior playing. The completeness of the defeat can be realized by a short survey of the game. The Academy only made one just down while the High School were only twice held for downs and twice were within five yards of scoring a touchdown. There is no room whatever for the Academy making any excuses. What they should have done to show their spirit of fairness was to put their team in better shape and then challenge the High School to another game and not put excuses in the paper trying to cover their defeat.

FAIR PLAY.

High School Wins at Foot Ball.

The High School foot ball eleven won a notable victory Saturday over the strong Academy team. The game was played at the Fair grounds and there were several hundred people in attendance. It was exciting from start to finish and closely contested the High School finally winning out by the close score of 2 to 0.

The High School boys if they keep up their present form will give the other teams in Central Pennsylvania a hard tussle for supremacy on the gridiron this fall.
